About

Patricia Duran is the executive director and a speaker at this year's conference.

Patricia is a graduate student at Eastern New Mexico University, and is studying for her master's degree in mass communication. To receive a master's degree, graduate students can either write a thesis or do a capstone project. She is one of the first mass communication students to put on a revival and church event for her capstone project.

Patricia has been planning church events for the past two years and leading worship for the last four years.

“Revive the Light Conference” is her capstone, as well as her life's mission to bring Christ's love to hidden places. Once the event is over, she will present it to the graduate school. After she graduates, she plans to enter into the communication field and go into full time ministry.

Mission

The “Revive the Light Conference” is on schedule to be held in Raton, New Mexico on March 16-17, 2018 for two days at the Shuler Theater.

The mission of “Revive the Light Conference” is to spark a fire across generations who feel dulled by the world’s darkness. Every day, we battle with brokenness, poverty, crime, and addiction (just to name a few). We believe it is only by God’s light that we have the power to change people’s hearts, create prospering lives, and revive a city.

This conference is set in place to revive the light—hope, passion, love, and freedom—inside individuals.

Once the flame is lit, we hope our attendees will witness the power of the gospel and leave with the tools to change their lives and influence others.

The conference is open to all ages for free registration, and recommended for ages 15 and up. We are already expecting over 250 people (minimum) to attend this event. First Christian Church of Raton is the sponsoring ministry for the conference.

In addition, Put Him First (PHF) is coming from Houston and Bible Connect is coming from Clovis, New Mexico to provide live Christian hip hop, entertainment, and worship music for the conference.

Sponsorship & Donation Program

Please consider sponsoring or donating to this nonprofit conference.

Our goal is to make this event nonprofit and fully funded by sponsors and donations.

After venue rentals, event insurance, sound and lighting, stage design, advertising, merchandise, and travel expenses for speakers and entertainment, our budget is between $1,600 and $2,000.

All donations will go directly to paying event costs, and left over money will be used for next year's event.

Our sponsors believe in the mission and have donated their time, money, and effort to make "Revive the Light" a reality. We thank them from the bottom of hearts for having faith in our conference!

If you believe in what we are offering, please consider becoming a sponsor for this nonprofit event.

As a sponsor, your name, business, and organization will be associated with the conference.

All business and organizations that sponsor or donate will be announced at the event and have the chance to register for the conference before registration opens to the public.

We have created a sponsorship and donation program so that you and your organization can receive acknowledgement for your contribution and gifts.
